

Chance, Dance, Blazing Romance

By Heledd Bianchi

Chance, dance, blazing romance,
When you get that feeling, you dance;
Move with me, breath with me, Come fire, walk with me,
Light up my soul and share with me

When you came in to my life,
You ignited a passion that felt just right,
You inspired, caressed and held me tight,
Kept me warm and shone my light

Chance, dance, blazing romance,
When you get that feeling, you dance;
Move with me, breath with me, Come fire, walk with me,
Light up my soul and share with me

When we touch, fast are our hearts burning rapidly,
When we kiss, sweet are our lips eternally;
Your body sways along my wave,
You rock your boat along my stave

It's magic to watch
Your lithe push and glide me,
It's magic to watch
Your eyes electrify me
Into a sea of dreams
That mesmerize me

It pains me like crazy
To be away from you,
Feeling your presence near me,
It truly embraces me;
I'm reassured that our absent hearts are still entwined
In body, soul and mind.

Chance, dance, blazing romance,
When you get that feeling, you dance;
Move with me, breath with me, Come fire, walk with me
Light up my soul and share with me

He / We

He pitched, he sailed, he probed, he left me be,
He followed, he listened, he caressed me.
We cried, we laughed, he silenced me,
He tucked me up in bed with tea

He was, he is, he will be there for me
To protect, to guide, to lullaby me.
He will excite, he will ignite, he will tolerate me;
When the chips are down
He, so selflessly
